LIDA is a vertically integrated enterprise specializing in the research and development, manufacturing, and global marketing of high-performance warp-knitted fabrics and advanced microfibre cleaning products. Established in 2000, the company initially focused on warp-knitted suede fabrics. Beginning in 2006, it expanded its capabilities through the introduction of a dedicated microfibre towel production line and subsequent facility upgrades. Currently, its domestic manufacturing base achieves an average daily output of 30,000 meters of warp-knitted fabric and 50,000 units of cleaning textiles. In 2025, its fully operational Batam (Indonesia) manufacturing facility commenced large-scale production, with a designed daily capacity of 250,000 cleaning textile units. Over two decades, LIDA has cultivated a comprehensive, end-to-end industrial chain encompassing R&D, warp knitting, dyeing and finishing, post-treatment, finished-product assembly, and international distribution. Supported by state-of-the-art testing infrastructure and ISO-aligned quality assurance protocols, the company consistently delivers innovative, performance-driven cleaning solutions to global markets—and has earned sustained recognition and trust from international clients.
